REUNION OF OLD CONFEDERATES

LYNNVILLE ENTERTAINS VETERANS OF THE C. S. A.—SOLDIERS SPEAK.

Special to The Herald.

LYNNVILLE, Tenn., Sept. 29.—Several hundred veterans of the Confederacy assembled here yesterday in the reunion. There were probably 2,000 people on the ground, several of them being young men and women. The weather was excellent, and the reunion was a pronounced success. The orator of the occasion was Dr. R. Lin Cave, pastor of the Woodland street Christian church, of Nashville. He referred eloquently to the times gone by, when he was a follower of the peerless leader of the Army of the Potomac, Gen. Robert E. Lee.

He was followed by Col. H. Allen Brown, of Columbia, another veteran of the Virginia army, who created great enthusiasm with a ringing speech, filled with anecdotes from his experience, when he was a gallant follower of the stars and bars.

Each family spread a cloth for the barbecue and the feast that followed was unequalled.

Early in the morning the old soldiers participated in a parade, some of them in uniform. For one day at least the flag of the Confederacy was raised in triumph above the stars and stripes.

Col. Brown called special attention to the fact that the histories and text books used in the schools of the South were written by Northern men, but did not speak in a spirit of criticism or resentment, but suggested that the South had furnished many great men, and that it was nothing more than justice that the section should prepare text books, etc., which would bring out the achievements of the people of this section, and give them greater prominence.

The suggestion met a favorable reception by the audience, and it was thought advisable to appoint a committee to investigate the question, and see what action should be taken.

Tax Books Just Completed by County Clerk Contain Much Interesting Information As to Revenue Matters. Values By Districts.

County Clerk H. W. Thomas completed the tax books Wednesday, and they were delivered by him to Trustee McFall today.

Mr. Thomas has made good time in the work of preparing the tax books, and they were not due until next Monday, and the time had been extended ten days beyond that day, but Mr. Thomas pushed the work so rapidly that he completed it several days earlier than the usual time.

An inspection of the tax books proves that Maury county is making excellent progress for the books show the tax aggregate to be $143,518.14 for the year 1910, as compared with an aggregate of $127,715.84 for 1909. This increase is due to the rapidly growing value of personal and real property in the county.

APPLES BRING GOOD PRICE IN MARKET

Quite a large quantity of apples is being brought to market and the price ranges from 75c to $1.00 a bushel for the best. While it is a fair sized crop it is thought it will not amount to a half of what should be gathered in an average year.

Some beautiful pears have been offered for sale, also.
